Business Versus the Beer Glass and Verdict of Common Sense.

John G. Woolley In Eloquent Plea Notes New Attitude of Trade.

Business is turning down the beer glass and is proving the strongest backer of the present Prohibition "wave," according to a brilliant address delivered by John G. Woolley at Indianapolis Nov. 10.

In the progress of his ninety minute address before the National Interchurch Temperance federation Mr. Woolley sketched a series of graphic pictures showing the present almost unanimous attitude of trade and commerce toward the liquor habit and the liquor traffic. In part he said:

Will a Glass of Beer Hurt a Man?

Surely it has not been proved that necessarily it injures a man to take a glass of beer. No, certainly not. It depends on the man. It has not been proved that certainly, necessarily, it injures a boy to win $10 on a horse race. It depends on the boy. But the broad rule in human experience and observation varies as little as the magnetic needle—that it is demoralizing to play the races; that it is injurious to drink beer.

The Captain of the Ocean Liner.

I sat through a long ocean voyage at the captain's table on a Pacific ocean liner. Other passengers at the same table from time to time extended to the captain the hospitality of their private bottles of wine and spirits, which he invariably declined.

One day after we had got fairly well acquainted one of these men rallied the captain on his rigid abstinence and said to him, "Do you think it would hurt you to have a brandy and soda?" and the captain answered "No." "Well," another man then spoke up and said, "are you afraid of it, then, captain?" and I could see the broad shoulders of the grizzled viking bulk themselves back a little as he answered meditatively:

"No; I don't know that it would hurt me at all, and I certainly am not afraid of it, but there is a lot more to this thing, don't you know, than that. I am the master of this ship. My standing in my profession and my livelihood as a man depend upon the confidence of her owners and the confidence of the board of admiralty. I have worked for many years at this business. I have been careful, and I have had good luck, but the best skipper on earth may drive his ship on the rocks without any fault whatever of his own. If I should do that

Improvement Club Holds Session

Say, don't you know we've got some of the liveliest citizens in this "Orchard City?" Why if you don't believe it just step around to one of the meetings of the Improvement Club and see for yourself. Well say, it it relied on a certain few in this town to make this town a Garden of Eden, we'd soon have just the opposite. There are always a few, and a very few it seems, who take an interest in the town. Honest, we're afraid to publish a picture of an Improvement Club meeting for fear someone will take it for a scene in the Chicago "Wheat Pit" at the high point in a "corner" it is so different. Now wake up, some of you descendents of Adam, or we will be obliged to start a Woman's Improvement Club to take care of the men's business. Do you think for a minute, we're going to take a lot of valuable space every week to give you fellows a calling down for laziness? Not so that you can notice it Reginald dear. There's such a thing as getting tired don't you know.

Well, we will now tell you what a small handful of real boosters did last Monday night for their town, which is more than the rest of you did, we can bet. The meeting was called to order by Pres. Sawyer at 8 p. m. in the Library building, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Under the head of committee reports, the committee appointed to act with the Citizen representative on the Booster edition, composed of Messrs. Whitman and Curry, were absent, (both of them.) Mr. Thomas, who was appointed to write a letter to the S. P. regarding a late freight, was (absent.) The committee appointed appointed to appointed to put the flagpole in condition for the display of weather signals, reported no action. Those who went to Los Gatos as delegates from the Improvement Club at the Dry County Convention were, or was, as far as reported, the Secretary. Fine showing wasn't it. It was moved that a committee of three be appointed to secure if possible, permenent quarters for the club. The ques appotnted are Messrs. Kennedy, Farley and Adams. (See if this committee reports next time.) Another committee appointed are Messrs. Rodeck, Cooper and R. K. Thomas to find out from the citizens if they want the Interurban Ry. to come down Campbell av. (We'll also see if this committee reports.) It was suggested to the Secretary that he send out notices the Wednespay before the Monday the meeting is held, notifying the committees that they are to get busy and make out a report. The secretary also gave notice that after the first of January he was going to collect the dues, $.25 a quarter from every member. He also said that this would be the best way to find the true boosters of the town. So rake up that two bits, if you want to stay on the band wagon. We mean business this time and if you fellows don't show some life pretty soon we're going to start another fire to get up enthusiasm for a rousing meeting. Incidently we might mention that it would save the Secretary a lot of work if yon'd look him np and pay your two bits. But please don't all come at once.

COAST EVENTS OF PAST WEEK TERSELY TOLD

Interesting News Items From States Bordering On the Broad Pacific.

Assemblage of Paragraphs That Present Important Occurrences in Condensed Form.

Portland, Or.—Francis J. Heney will take up the Oregon land fraud cases early in January.

Fresno.—After the first of the year all of Fresno county will be "dry" on Sunday. The Board of Supervisors ordered the District Attorney to prepare an ordinance calling for Sunday and midnight closing of saloons throughout the county.

Pasadena.—The most serious loss sustained in the fire that destroyed "The Monastery," on Mount Wilson, was that of the nine-inch reflecting lens prepared for Professor Ellerman for use in the South Sea islands the coming summer in photographing Halley's comet.

Los Angeles.—The City Council took another step in aid of the Los Angeles Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, when it created the position of visiting nurse and voted a salary allowance. It will be the duty of the visiting nurse to operate among the consumptive poor, under the direction of the society.

Los Angeles.—Frank Wilson, a laundry worker, was arrested here last week on a charge of bigamy. Two women, each claiming to be his lawful wife, are in the city. One says that she was married to him in Coos Bay, Ore., in 1905, and that she never has been divorced. The other he married here about a year ago, and he was living with her when arrested.

Redding.—As the result of the great weight of snow which fell during the recent storm, the country bridge which crosses the Pitt river above Copper City has fallen into the stream and is a total wreck. The bridge was condemned last August, but nothing was done toward its destruction. The structure was purchased two years ago from a mining company for $4500.

Sacramento.—The entire plant of the Utah Construction Company at Spring Garden, on the line of the Western Pacific Railway, in Plumas county, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $30,000. The plant had completed the work for which it was erected and was soon to be dismantled and hauled away to some other point. Much expensive machinery was contained in it and a large portion of it has been ruined.

Stockton.—The board of directors of the South San Joaquin irrigation district, comprising 60,000 acres, recently organized, adopted a resolution accepting the offer of the Oakland district directors for the right to purchase a half-interest in the Turlock water rights and system of ditches, for which the seller asks $650,000. The two districts have ninety days' time to close the purchase, but to do so must decide by vote of the landowners in a called election.

Sacramento.—Figures announced a few days ago by the Southern Pacific Company showing the amount of business handled on the Sacramento division for the month of November last, as compared with that of November, 1908, show an increase of 11,646,167 tons for one mile, or an increase of 18.5 per cent. In November of this year 111,601,489 tons were handled, while in November, 1908, 99,955,322 tons were transported on this division. This rate of increase would approximately double business in four years.

Los Angeles.—After he had been shot in the hip by Charles Williams, a negro, Patrolman Edwin E. Sanders fired six shots at his assailant, brought him down with a bullet in the heel, and pounced upon him. The wounded policeman then dragged his struggling captive to the nearest patrol box, handcuffed him to the steel post and turned in a call for a wagon. This accomplished, he fell in a faint from loss of blood. When the patrol wagon arrived the negro was striving frantically to free himself from the handcuffs and reach the patrolman's revolver.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT BRINGS HIGHEST PRICE IN EAST

Oranges From Sacramento Valley in Great Demand in Chicago.

Sacramento.—"Oranges from the Sacramento valley were selling for 80 cents a box more than oranges from any other section of the United States in the wholesale district of Chicago when I was there a few days ago," said Secretary O. H. Miller of the Sacramento Valley Development Association, upon his return from Chicago, where he attended the United States Land Irrigation Exposition. "One day when I was on Water street in the Chicago wholesale district five carloads of Sacramento Valley oranges arrived. I saw them sold for $2.90 a box. The nearest price that any other oranges from any part of the United States brought was $2.10 a box. Chicago fruit men say we pick them too green out here. If they were allowed to remain on the trees a week or two longer they would be much sweeter and juicier and bring a still higher price."

School Cost Per Pupil.

Sacramento.—A statistical digest on the cost and enrollment of the public schools of the State, issued a few days ago, shows that it cost $45.52 per pupil to educate the 351,145 boys and girls in the schools, kindergartens, elementary and high, for the year ending June 30th. A big falling off in the number of boys in the high schools is shown. In the grammar grades there were 186,481 boys and 170,664 girls, but in the high schools there were only 15,386 boys and 18,912 girls. Eighty per cent of the enrollment is in the elementary grades.

Livermore Reports Good Crops.

Livermore.—As a result of the early rains during the first ten days of December, the farmers and stockmen of the Livermore valley are predicting that next year will be one of the best crop years in a decade. During the thirty-eight years in which rainfall records have been kept in this region, the December rains have only exceeded the present downfall, with the month but half over, eight times. The year following the heavy rains was in each case a record breaker for crops.

Spiked Shoes Almost a Necessity.

New York.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American League baseball club, is against the proposed new rule doing away with the use of spiked shoes. "The moment you slow up the present style of play," he said, "public interest will decrease. Take away the sensational stealing of bases and baseball would be tiresome. Base runners and fielders can not get along without spikes."

Maniac Runs Amuck.

El Paso, Tex.—William Fee, an aged American, who is said to have had wealthy relatives at Albany, N. Y., was killed and several Mexican patients were injured by an insane patient at the Porfirio Diaz Hospital at Chihuahua, Mexico. The insane man, a Mexican, broke loose from his guards and began beating Fee and other patients over the head with stones.

Bank Depositors Get Coin.

Keifer, Okla.—Every depositor of the First State Bank of Keifer, which closed last week as a result of the failure of the Farmers' National Bank of Tulsa, who demanded his money was paid in full. Only a few depositors demanded their money. The bank is protected by the State guaranty fund.

Japan Discourages Emigration.

Tokio.—There are now, according to a report in the Japanese Foreign Office, 732 laborers in the Philippine islands. Japan is discouraging emigration to the islands. As there are already about 100,000 Chinese laborers there, the opportunity for the employment of Japanese is not good.

Envelope Factory for San Francisco.

Worcester, Mass.—At a meeting of the United States Envelope Company, held in this city, plans for starting a plant to employ from 3,500 to 5,000 hands in San Francisco were discussed at length, and it was decided to vote at the next meeting of the board to establish it.

Sale of Big Timber Tract.

Portland, Or.—It is stated here that New Orleans lumber interests have purchased a tract of 2800 acres of timber land in Clackamas county, this State. The consideration stated is $300,000. The tract is said to have cruised 200,000,000 feet.

Cruelty and Immorality Marked Reign of King Leopold

Brussels.—King Leopold is dead. His aged and wasted frame was unable to stand the strain put upon it by an operation for the removal of an obstruction in the intestines. The collapse occurred suddenly and at a moment when the doctors seemingly had the greatest hopes for his recovery.

There being no direct hereditary heir, the crown passes to Prince Albert, the only son of Leopold's brother, the late Philippe, count of Flanders. The new monarch was born on April 8, 1875, and on October 2, 1900, married Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria. They have three children: Prince Leopold, 8 years old; Prince Charles, 6 years of age, and Princess Marie Jose, 3 years old.

Prince Albert is one of the most popular members of the reigning house of Belgium. His wife is equally popular, their home life being such as to attract the love of the people. Prince Albert has traveled extensively and is a man of affairs. In appearance he is strikingly like the late king, but their dispositions and temperaments have always been in marked contrast.

Prince Albert has been a great student of politics and economics and has frequently lectured on these subjects. To broaden his grasp of the affairs of the world he visited the United States and other countries, always studying and always adding to his store of knowledge and philosophy.

There is another side to the new king which appeals to popular fancy. He dearly loves clean and healthy sport. He is an accomplished horseman, enjoys motoring and has taken a flight or two in a dirigible balloon.

Leopold II, King of the Belgians, was perhaps the most universally execrated monarch of modern times, albeit he was one of the ablest. He ruled over Belgium for nearly forty years, and in those four decades Belgium had unbroken peace and almost constant prosperity.

All the odium which fastened itself to Leopold's name was due to his personal character. He was flagrant and open in his liaisons. His cruelties to his wife, Queen Marie Henrietta, were known to the world. He drove his daughters from home, incarcerating one of them in a madhouse. He was the patron of the racetracks and the gambling palaces of Europe. He even owned and maintained a great gambling spa at Ostend up to within a few years ago. After a series of friendships with some of the most notorious women of Paris, he finally married the daughter of a janitor and installed her in a palace in Brussels, with a secret tunnel leading from his own royal apartments.

The crowning infamy of Leopolds' career—if his enemies are to be believed—was his administration of the Congo Free State. The world will never be of one mind as to the familiar story of the atrocities in the Congo. Belgian rule in this Darkest Africa project has been painted in scarifying colors as the most lurid reign of cruelty and licentiousness known to the modern history of the world. And, on the other hand, there have arisen in different parts of the world able defenders of Belgium's administration of the Congo. But, whether rightfully or wrongfully, the weight of popular opinion is against the Belgians, and Leopold, was held to blame for permitting the atrocities.

But to go back to the story of the reign of Leopold, the second King of Belgium, as the modern geographies know it. Leopold was born in 1835 and ascended the throne in 1865. Up to the time he became the custodian of the Congo Free State the world concerned itself very little with his life.

Leopolds' troubles began with his family. He was reputed to have been so cruel to his wife, Queen Marie Henrietta, that even while dying she wrote to her intimate friends declaring that hourly she prayed for death as a welcome escape from Leopold.

His eldest daughter, the Princess Stephanie, married the ill-fated Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, son of Emperor Franz Josef. Rudolph died an ignoble death in a hunting lodge and in the arms of a favorite mistress. Stephanie, left standing at the foot of an imperial throne, held an anomolous position at the court of Vienna, and finally quarrelled with her father. She became the wife of Count Lonyay, an obscure Austrian nobleman far beneath her imperial status. She returned to Belgium only to be turned away by King Leopold, who refused to permit her even to pray beside the coffin of her mother and who drove her from Brussels and from Belgium on the day of the funeral.

King Leopold's second daughter, the Princess Louise, was even more unfortunate. Married to the dissolute Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg, scandalized Europe by running away with a Hungarian officer, Lieutenant Kegelvitch. Leopold afterward held her a prisoner in an insane asylum, from which she made her escape to flee to the arms of her lover in Hungary.

There remained only one daughter, the Princess Clementine. She seems to have retained the affections of Leopold, although for a time she refused to live in the same palace with him because of his unconcealed interest in his latest favorite, the Baroness Vaughan.

The Baroness de Vaughan is one of four sisters, of whom three, including herself, are disreputable. She made her debut in gay Parisian circles at an early age. Leopold became smitten with her on one of his visits to Paris.

Panama Exposition Promises to Be Record Breaker

San Francisco.—A practically unanimous response from almost 150 prominent San Franciscans, invited to assume membership of a ways and means committee of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition has astonished those who were handling the preliminary organization for the exposition and has demonstrated anew the unity of the New San Francisco.

"Every man who declined to serve upon the ways and means committee," said a member of the organizing committee of six, "has sent us a 'boost' for the exposition. Ill-health, prospective absence from the city and such reasons are the only ones we have had from those who have not accepted membership upon this most important committee."

The promoters of the exposition, all of them prominent men of San Francisco affairs, are in high spirits, as the result of two thorough tests of the attitude of the city toward the exposition.

The response to the invitations concerning service on the ways and means committee was realized to be an accurate thermometer for gauging the temper of the whole people toward the exposition.

The second indication of the feeling of the people was at the opening banquet at the Palace. This was carefully watched by those who are actively interested in the exposition. The thunderous applause that greeted every mention of the great project was taken by the members of the committee and all actively interested as an expression from the most influential men of San Francisco, the men who will have to do the work to make the exposition the great international success that is planned.

Labor Reform in Japan.

Victoria, B. C.—Factory owners of Japan who employ 742,000 hands, of whom 392,000 are women and a big percentage children, are excited over factory laws to be brought down at this session of the Diet, a draft of which, considered originally in 1896 and brought forward in 1902, but dropped, has been issued. The law will provide against employment of children under 12 years of age, but those above 10 now employed will be permitted to continue. Workers under 16 and females may not be worked more than twelve hours a day, and must be given two days' rest each month. In days of ten hours an hour's rest must be given.

Hawaii Does Not Want to be Dry.

Washington.—"Hands off Hawaii in liquor matters," is substantially the protest received by Congress from the Hawaiian Legislature.

The Secretary of Hawaii transmitted to Congress a resolution adopted by the General Assembly at Honolulu declaring that any legislation to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor in that territory, as proposed in a pending bill, would brand Hawaii as incapable of self-government.

It sounds a note of warning against Congress taking from the Hawaiian people the right to prohibit or regulate the liquor traffic there, "or any other matter exclusively affecting the welfare of the Territory."

ANOTHER SCHEME LAUNCHED TO ORGANIZE A NEW STATE

Northern California and Southern Oregon Seek to Combine.

Sacramento.—A new plan for State division has been launched, this time in the northern end of the State. It is proposed to create a new State to be known as Siskiyou and to consist of Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc, Humboldt, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen and Tehama counties of California and Coos, Douglas, Curry, Josephine, Jackson, Klamath and Lake counties in Oregon.

Maps of the proposed new State have been published in several papers at Ashland, Yreka, Klamath Falls and other towns of the section. At a recent meeting at Jackson, Ore., plans for the movement were launched and the work of education is going ahead quietly.

Another meeting of delegates from the various counties interested will be held in a short time at Yreka. It is proposed to make Yreka the State capital.

Beekeepers Organize.

Monterey.—The Central Counties Beekeepers' Association was perfected here last week, in the election of Vernon Townsend of Soledad, president; Henry Hennekey of Monterey, secretary; J. Whitan of King City, Mrs. E. Denning of Pacific Grove and Ed Smith of Hollister, vice-presidents. On the board of directors are Bee Inspector K. M. Henneken, J. Whitan, Mrs. Denning and E. Kerlin. The counties of Contra Costa, Alameda, Santa Clara, San Benito, Santa Cruz and the northern portions of San Luis Obispo and Monterey are represented.

Western Pacific's First Big Haul.

San Francisco.—The first big long freight haul undertaken by the new Western Pacific Railroad Company began December 17, when twenty-six cars of wire products destined for the American Steel & Wire Company in this city left Joliet, Ill. The freight traffic men of all the trans-continental lines in this country are watching the progress of the west-bound Western Pacific train with considerable interest, for this big consignment marks the beginning of the Gould line's through freight business.

Duped By Her Suitor.

San Francisco.—John G. Holmes, a contractor, was arrested by Detective Redmund and charged with felony embezzlement. According to the complaining witness, Mrs. Mary Adams, Holmes, under the name of Dawson, borrowed $500 from her. He promised to marry her, she alleges and also to give her a one-half interest in his contracting business. After receiving the money Holmes disappeared.

Plumas Recorder Negligent.

Quincy.—County Recorder W. N. Richards has handed his resignation to the County Clerk, to be presented to the Board of Supervisors. This action follows steps taken by his bondsmen, H. G. Dorsch and V. Schneider, to withdraw from his bond. Richards has been drinking more or less for some time, and his records and accounts have not been posted up later than July 1st.

Dredger Suddenly Sinks.

San Pedro.—Eight men composing the crew of the big suction dredger of the Randolph H. Miner company escaped drowning by swimming 200 yards to the edge of the Miner fill, when the dredger suddenly sank. What caused the disaster is not known. The dredger, valued at $20,000, lies in 12 feet of water.

Heavy Loss of Apples.

Reno, Nev.—Ross Lewers, the pioneer farmer of Franktown, who is the largest apple grower in the State of Nevada, is lamenting the loss of apples as a result of the recent big snowstorm. His loss was more than 4000 boxes, which means more than eighty tons of apples.

Violation of State Labor Laws.

Des Moines.—State Labor Commissioner Edward Van Duyn caused the arrest of the local officers of the Postal Telegraph Company, charging that the company was employing messenger boys under the age of 16 years, contrary to the Iowa child labor laws.

Aims to Check Coal Strikes.

Sydney, N. S. W.—Business has been so demoralized by the coal strike that the legislature took the drastic step of passing a bill rendering both strike leaders and employers who instigate or aid a strike or lockout liable to a year's imprisonment.

Chicago.—High school football trips are things of the past so far as Chicago schools are concerned. President Alfred Urion of the Board of Education announced that he would introduce a resolution at the next board meeting for the purpose of preventing such trips in the future.

Topeka, Kan.—The National Good Roads Association, in convention here last week, adopted resolutions urging the adoption of laws providing that all moneys collected by States from the "license of electric, gasoline and steam driven pleasure and commercial vehicles be set aside for the improvement of State highways."

New York.—An unexpected banking "melon" was sliced up in Wall street in time for the Christmas holidays, when the First National Bank declared an extra dividend of 8 per cent for the quarter, making the total disbursement of 40 per cent in dividends for the year. The bank has a capitalization of $10,000,000 and distributes this year $4,000,000 in dividends.

Washington.—During 1908 the United States contributed more than one-half of the world's production of copper, the exports of copper from this country being 618,613,842 pounds, the largest amount recorded. These facts are contained in a report on the subject by the United States Geological Survey. The domestic consumption of copper during the year was 503,000,000 pounds.

Pittsburg.—At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Association of Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, held here, the first collegiate action looking toward the abolition of American football and the adoption of Rugby, unless the rules of the American game are radically changed, was taken. In the association are Washington and Jefferson University of West Virginia, Geneva, Grove City and Allegheny colleges.

New York.—The will of the late Charles N. Crittenton, who founded missions bearing the name of his daughter, Florence Crittenton, in seventy-four cities of this country, and in Shanghai, Tokio, Mexico City, Marseilles and other large cities, has been filed for probate. Half of the estate, which is roughly estimated to be worth between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000, is left to the National Florence Crittenton Mission. Mr. Crittenton died in San Francisco on November 16th.

Washington.—The need of the United States Navy for more enlisted men is shown by orders issued a few days ago placing in reserve the armored cruiser New York, which only a few months ago was placed in commission with the armored cruiser squadron of the Atlantic fleet, after having been completely rebuilt. The order placing the New York in reserve was given so that the crew might be used in forcing the complement of the new battleship Michigan, which is fitting out at the Philadelphia Navy yard.

DAWDLER BOUND TO FAIL.

Wasting Two Hours a Day Means Losing One Year in Every Twelve.

Dawdling is one of the chief sins of men and women that fail, says the San Francisco Bulletin. There are only twenty-four hours in the day, and it is possible to dawdle away five or six of them while hardly noticing it.

The dawdler commences in the morning before he gets up. His alarm clock rings at 6 o'clock and that is the hour at which he ought to rise. But he lies abed, stealing catnaps, for a quarter of an hour, and then jumps up in a hurry and proceeds to dress. It was just as hard to leave the bed at 6:15 as it would have been at 6, and the result of the loitering has been the loss of fifteen minutes out of the day.

Remembering that he is late, the dawdler pulls on his first garments in a great hurry, but his pace soon slackens. He yawns and stretches himself and spends half or three-quarters of an hour in his ablutions, shaving and attiring. At breakfast he reads the paper leisurely, and the meal takes up another half hour. Then he leaves the house to go to his office, where he arrives thirty minutes later than he ought.

Although late, he does not plunge briskly into his work. There are several other papers to glance through and over these he wastes the major portion of an hour. And when, at length, he lays aside the papers and turns to his duties he does not keep at them assiduously.

Thrift is not an Egyptian mystery known only to a few favored initiates. Everybody sees in what thrift consists, but not everybody having the knowledge puts it into practice.

By dawdling two hours a day, one wastes a twelfth of his entire life. One month out of the year, one year out of twelve, goes for nothing. This waste, remember, is in addition to all holidays and vacations. What man, having his way to make in the world, can afford to drop a month out of his year? What man can afford, at the end of every eleven years to cease all work for a twelve month? Dawdling wastes time in small portions, but the total loss is enormous and costly.

His Important Service.

One of the greatest nuisances of traveling is tipping. A smile from a head waiter is a costly commodity, and no menial service is too small for remuneration. An unusually ingenious plea for a tip is that of a small Hibernian, mentioned by John Augustus O'Shea in "Roundabout Recollections." The author was traveling in Ireland.

I drove down to the station on the faint chance of catching the train to Dublin. When I got out of the cab at the station a bright-faced boy accosted me.

"Ah, sure, sir, you've just missed the train," he said.

It was true. I booked my luggage and ascertained when the next train would leave. While I was waiting the lad came up to me and asked me for a tip.

"What for?" I asked.

"Sure, sir. I told you that you were too late," he unblushingly responded.

For Old People.

After reaching the age of forty the human system gradually declines. The accumulated poisons in the blood cause rheumatic pains in the joints, muscles and back. These warnings should be promptly relieved and serious illness avoided by using the following prescription which shows wonderful results even after the first few doses, and it will eventually restore physical vigor:

"One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris compound; half pint of high grade whiskey. This to be mixed and used in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bedtime. The bottle to be well shaken each time." Any druggist has these ingredients or he will get them from his wholesale house.

SPOHR'S VIOLIN FOUND.

New Yorker Believes He Has Solved a Mystery of a Century.

Louis Blumenberg of New York tells me he has found the famous Spohr violin in London, a London correspondent of the New York Herald says. The story of this renowned fiddle and its loss is one of the romances of music.

Louis Spohr, the greatest artist of his day, was traveling through Germany in 1804, with a friend, Herr Eck. Spohr had his trunk, containing all his personal effects, with his beloved violin, carefully lashed to the back of the coach on the way to Gottingen. There were numerous highway robbers in those districts in those days, and a certain variety of "luggage lifter" bearing some resemblance to the modern gentleman who operates so successfully at times on English and continental railways.

When Spohr reached Gottingen he found his trunk gone, and from that day to this there has been no trace of the famous violin. But good records have been kept of its peculiar design and markings, and when it came before Mr. Blumenberg's eye he identified it.

When full proof of the instrument's identity, which Mr. Blumenberg is now seeking in Germany, is secured, it will be worth at least $15,000 to $20,000.

TOMORROW will be Christmas day. And it will be a glorious day, not only for the children, but also for grown ups. But how will it be glorious?

There seems to be a tendency in the public mind to grow farther and farther out of the true meaning of Christmas as the years go by. While we do not wish to appear too fanatical on the subject, we do wish to put in a plea for a little more Christ and not so many "presents" on this the greatest of all of the Lord's days.

Take for instance the children: how joyful they are when the time for "Santa Claus" draws near. Nobody would do anything to make them less eager, God bless them, but how are they eager? Do they know the true spirit of Christmas? Not many, we fear. Most of them think only of the "tree" and the "presents." Let them be enthusiastic over their "presents." but also teach them what Christmas symbolizes. You can not overmention Christ's goodness to the young ones. Some of you don't mention it half enough. What we need in this world is a little more Christ and a little less "self."
